

FAMILY LAW FIRM MEYER, OLSON, LOWY & MEYERS IN GROWTH MODE WITH TWO NEW PARTNERS AND OFFICE EXPANSION

LOS ANGELES (February 6, 2012) – Leading family law firm Meyer, Olson, Lowy & Meyers (MOLM) continues to grow its practice with the promotion of Anne N. Slusser and Benjamin Valencia II to partners. During their tenure with MOLM, Slusser and Valencia have teamed with name partners Lisa Helfend Meyer, Doreen M. Olson, Dana Lowy and Felicia Meyers on many of the high-net worth divorce and complex family law cases for which the Century City-based firm is well known.

“We take immense pride in the legal skills, drive and compassionate commitment that Anne and Ben bring to our clients,” said Lisa Helfend Meyer. “They are both highly talented lawyers who excel in tackling the complicated and difficult cases that have become such a big part of our practice.”

Anne Slusser joined MOLM in 2002 and specializes in high-conflict divorce and custody disputes. She is a graduate of Southwestern University School of Law and holds a BA from the University of Southern California.

Benjamin Valencia, who focuses on litigation, joined MOLM in 2003. He earned his JD from Southwestern University School of Law and a B.S. in Political Science from UCLA.

MOLM has also experienced physical growth having recently completed the expansion of its offices in the 10100 Santa Monica Boulevard building. MOLM enlisted Culver City-based Wolcott Architecture/Interiors and noted designer LM Pagano for the project that added both executive offices and a new conference room and boosted the firm’s total space to 12,000 square feet.
